

Born and raised in Biggar, Marc Holt has been involved with OSAC for half of his life and is honoured to be running once again for the position of Board Chair. Marc began attending Showcase as a youth delegate with the Biggar & District Arts Council. In 2007, at the age of 17, he became a full board member with the Biggar & District Arts Council and remained on the board for 10 years, including 1 year as Vice President. After leaving this board, Marc would spend 1 year with the Route 11 Arts Cooperative in Warman. Marc moved to Yorkton in the fall of 2019 where he immediately joined the board of the Yorkton Arts Council (YAC). In June of 2021, he resigned his seat on the YAC board to take on a staff position as the Performing Arts Coordinator.

The arts have been Marc's life, having taken part in music, dance, and musical theatre as a kid. He studied music at the University of Saskatchewan and graduated with a Bachelor of Arts in Music in 2014. Now living in Saskatoon, Marc works as a freelance stagehand, theatre technician, and musician.

Having been involved with OSAC for so many years already, it's an organization that means a great deal to Marc and he's grateful for the opportunity to represent the organization as Chair of the board for a second term.
